MUST REVAMP DRY STRATEGY, CAMPERS HEAR

Governor Tells Source of Tax Burdens; Programs
to Sunday Night

Since national prohibition, the wets have "out-generated" the dries, was the verdict of the Rev. Almer V. Pennewell, dry leader before the Methodist camp meeting of Des Plaines, Saturday night. Before 1917, the wets were on the defensive and the dries on the aggressive. Sponsors of the wet cause were the distillers, brewers, retailers and "petroleum politicians," generally speaking, of poor reputation. After the adoption of the 18th amendment, the dries instead of keeping up stressing the evils of the liquor traffic and alcoholism, allowed themselves to be content with a weak defense of prohibition. They supposed the Government would assume full responsibility for prohibition, "the politicians sold us out," Mr. Pennewell said. "Prohibition became a political football." "It was not until Herbert Hoover became President of the United States that the Administration assumed responsibility for prohibition. Then prohibition began to succeed." (Applause). However, the government will soon have done its utmost, and the completion of the job will have to be done by local effort in education and insistence upon local enforcement, he said. Local leadership must be developed; "new blood," "new enthusiasm." The dries must unite under one leadership for a "final smash upon the liquor traffic," he said.

In order to judge the effect of prohibition, one must compare the actual conditions before, the minister said. That "all the young people are drinking now," he cited much testimony of high school superintendents to refute, finally saying that it is "a lie." Economists, educators, organized women, social workers, are overwhelmingly for prohibition, he declared, adding that "the last Congress was the drier Congress we ever had."

Citing the present outstanding wet leaders, John Raskob and Du Ponts, he charged that the Du Ponts enforce prohibition among their thousands of employees.

The first Methodist conference in America in 1780 condemned slavery and the liquor traffic. "From the very day we were born as a church, this fighting blood has been in our veins, and we will never stop till the liquor traffic is banished from every country under the sun."

Prohibition is very old stuff, he said. In 1645, Connecticut had a law prohibiting the sale of liquor to the Indians. Maine has had a prohibition law since 1851. Iowa had a prohibition law in 1881. By 1917, 26 states had prohibition laws, and in that year, the first American Congress elected by popular vote, "almost a year" before the boys went over, submitted the 18th amendment. Amendment was given 5 years to be ratified; in one year and 28 days it had sufficient ratification to make it effective. It was finally ratified by 93 houses out of a possible total of 96, while some 2300 amendments to the Constitution have been proposed in Congress, 24 have been submitted to the states, and only 19 approved. Mr. Pennewell said. The original Constitution was signed by only 39 men, and only eleven states accepted it. Mr. Pennewell's good sized audience were people mostly above middle age.

Governor Emmerson
Talks Taxes

Eleven and nine-tenths cents of every dollar earned by American citizens go for taxes, Governor Emmerson declared at the big Good Citizenship meeting at the Camp Grounds last Saturday afternoon. "Figures compiled by the federal government for the year of 1928, show that 34.4 per cent of the nation's taxes go to the Government, 15.8 per cent go to the various states, and 48.8 per cent to the lesser branches of the government such as the cities, counties, school and park districts," he said.

"As the income and the earning power of the nation has declined, these governmental debts and expenses have become a national problem. Illinois is only one of the many states now seeking a solution," he continued. He asked public support of the newly appointed Revenue committee. Senator James Barbour of Evanston, presided.

Remaining Programs

Among the outstanding programs in the two weeks' main session that comes to a close next Sunday night, are the women's missionary programs today. Mrs. Samuel Taylor of Arlington Heights, president of the Chicago Northern district of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, will preside this morning. Mrs. E. R. Tweed of Lucknow, India, and well known to local Methodists, will speak. Mrs. Robert Stephenson will speak this afternoon on "home missions."

Tomorrow is "Layman's Day," and Bishop F. W. Warne of Brooklyn, N. Y., will speak in the morning. In the afternoon, Bishop F. J. McConnell of New York, well known for his standing as president of the Federal Council of

REPORTED NEW POST OFFICE FAKE

Treasury Dept. Makes Denial; Senator Glenn Replies

In view of a statement in the Chicago Tribune Tuesday morning that a "contract award" had been "reported to the President's emergency committee for employment last week" for a $52,000 federal project in Arlington Heights, the Arlington Heights Herald made diligent inquiry to see what there was to it.

Postmaster Ben Helfers knew nothing of any proposed new post office building in Arlington Heights, and was of the opinion that the report was a fake.

In response to a telegram from the Arlington Heights Herald to Senator Otis F. Glenn at Washington, the Senator made the following reply by wire Wednesday: "Treasury department advises no authorization or allocation for Federal Building in Arlington Heights has been made."

So the report was "all wet." The nice dream of a new postoffice and a number of local men given jobs to put it up, fades out.

Four Tumble Off Horses, Two Hurt In Steeplechase

Of seven horses in the steeplechase Monday at Arlington Park, four lost their riders. Rigan McKinney, millionaire amateur steeplechase rider, tumbled off his horse, Nat Clyman, at the eleventh jump, and suffered a broken collarbone. Jockey J. MacIver, a Canadian, on Queen's Pal, or rather off, got a sprained ankle.

Both were taken to the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago by the Lauterburg & Oehler ambulance. McKinney last Friday tumbled off his steeplechase inception at the same hedge, and suffered a slight concussion. The other two tumbling riders in Monday's steeplechase escaped unhurt.

An employee of the race track suffered a broken collarbone Tuesday morning.

Seventh District Women's Clubs to Sponsor Excursion

An excursion to Apple River canyon, sponsored by the conservation department of the Seventh District Women's clubs, will start at 10 o'clock, next Wednesday morning, from the intersection of Des Plaines River road and Irving Park boulevard, at the forest preserve near Schiller Park. Mrs. Walter Amaden of Des Plaines, who is conservation chairman of the Seventh district, will arrange sleeping accommodations for any, if desired. Mrs. Charles Poulsen is conservation chairman in Arlington Heights, and has further information.

Apple River Canyon is located 138 miles west of Chicago, in Jo Daviess county, and is only one of many beauties to be found in this county. The canyon is five miles long, and varies in height from sixty to 250 feet.

The wonderful carvings of nature look down upon the floor, in some places only ten rods wide, and as its greatest, less than the quarter of a mile wide. The rocks on the exposed cliffs rise high in the sky, often giving the appearance of some ancient castle.

The river is small and cool, and glides quietly along through the canyon. Apple River is the home of small-mouthed black bass and other varieties of fish. Wolf, fox, mink, and other animals are also found there. Over sixty varieties of trees and five hundred species of plants cover the valley, slopes, the rocks and crags.

Apple River Canyon can be reached over route No. 5, through Freeport, or the Grand Detour route through Dixon and Rockford. This district is quite often referred to as the Berkshires of Illinois. Unless you have seen Apple River Canyon, you cannot truthfully say that you know Illinois—Walter E. Nielsen in the Du Page County Register.

Churches in America, will speak; and also in the evening. Bishop C. W. Burns of San Francisco will speak Sunday morning and evening, and Bishop McConnell again in the afternoon. Big final crowds are expected of conferences will follow throughout the summer at the Camp grounds.

Arlington Heights Flower Show will be held in the village hall, August 7th and 8th.

THIS YEAR'S ASSESSMENT WORK STARTS

C. E. Fox Takes Chief Appraiser's Post; Revise System

Work on the 1931 tax assessment started Wednesday this week, upon the appointment of Charles E. Fox, president of the Hyde Park Real Estate board, as director of appraisals to take the place of Mr. Harry S. Cutmore, discharged by the board of assessors last month. The first job in the new assessment, it is announced, will be to prepare a new building appraisal manual, based on the one prepared for the 1928 reassessment by Mr. Cutmore and assistants, but containing a number of revisions. Members of the Illinois Society of Architects, in addition to the advisory committee, of which former Governor Dunne is chairman, are to make suggestions for improving the manual. Present construction costs, it is understood, are to be taken into consideration, which are expected to result in a general lowering of valuations. Whether that will mean a lowering of taxes or not is another story.

Mr. Fox, whose appointment was recommended by the advisory board, and who was appointed by the assessors Tuesday, is director in a number of south side banks. Mark Levy, secretary of the advisory committee, and president of the Chicago Real Estate board, recommended Mr. Fox as one of the most able men in appraisal work.

Concerted action is being taken by local authorities and business men toward a lower quadrantal assessment of local property for 1931 and will be featured in the Herald next week.

River, Mannheim, Algonquin, Oakton Roads Get Paved

Rapid paving and widening work is being done on River and Mannheim roads in Des Plaines. The 40-foot pavement from Miner street north to the Weller Creek bridge was finished last week and will take about another week yet to set. The state has consented to add a curb, to replace the one destroyed in the widening—this to the satisfaction of the owners of property abutting on this stretch of paving.

South of Ellinwood street to Thacker, a retaining wall must be built along the river, which will take about six weeks or more, according to Engineer Jenkins. An additional 20 feet is to be laid here. South of Thacker street to Keeney avenue, the pavers are now at work; this will probably proceed rapidly. So in about two weeks more River road will be open with the exception of the short stretch from Ellinwood to Thacker.

Mannheim Road is now widened from Algonquin road south to Oakton street, a distance of half a mile. Concrete 20 feet wide is also poured in the Algonquin road east to Mannheim. This paving will have to set a few days more. The Algonquin road is paved from Algonquin to Des Plaines, except in sections over which there are right of way disputes.

Paving is also proceeding on Oakton street from Mannheim west to connect with Higgins road. The pavement is laid east of the Soo line tracks.

GOVERNOR STEERS CLEAR OF RACES

No, Governor Emmerson did not attend the races at Arlington Park Saturday, as occurred about a year ago at Camp Meeting time.

He left with a party of friends to spend a few days fishing at Morristown, Wis. after two weeks' hard work going over hundreds of bills left him by the legislature.

This year, he did speak at Camp Meeting as announced that he would.

Arlington Lions Win First Gaffe of Golf

Arlington Heights Lions were 6½ points ahead of Barrington Lions last week Thursday at the first game of a golf tournament of five games to be played. Another game was to be played yesterday at Des Plaines, except in sections over which there are right of way disputes.

This year, he did speak at Camp Meeting as announced that he would.

Ladies of Arlington Heights Federation Meet at Northbrook

The Arlington Heights Federation of Evangelical Ladies Societies met at St. Peter's Evangelical church, Northbrook yesterday. Rev. H. L. Streich, executive secretary of the Women's Union was the principal speaker.

Mrs. J. H. Ellerbrake of Arlington Heights, led the departmental meeting on religious work.

Move to Sell 467,000 Parcels for 1929 Taxes

County Treasurer McDonough Monday filed a bill to obtain judgment on some 467,000 parcels of real estate in Cook county listed on 584 tax record books for 1929 taxes due May 15. The suit was thus commenced before County Judge Jarecki. Attorneys will be given until Monday to file objections to the sale. About $95,000,000 in taxes are involved.

The number of delinquents is about 150,000 more than were in the 1928 tax sales. Besides these, about 15,000 more were in on the injunction secured by attorneys for tax payers' associations, which prevent tax sales being made of their properties for the time being. These property owners contend that the 1929 assessment was illegal because unequal; billions in personal property being unassessed, so it is claimed.

This makes about one-third of the real estate in Cook county, in area and value, delinquent, about 100,000 sold for taxes, or otherwise involved in litigation for tax years of 1927, 1928 and 1929. The county has sent out 1,100,599 tax bills; 566,952 in the country towns; 533,647 in the city.

The Board of Review had received over 11,000 complaints by Monday on 1930 taxes and more complaints on the 1929 taxes, 68,000 on those for 1928, and 89,000 for 1927.

Junior Shakespeare Club to Be Formed in Arlington Heights

The National Junior Shakespeare Story Telling club, through the assistance of Miss Dorothy Kopplin, will shortly form a branch or association in Arlington Heights.

The club is educational in purpose and is designed to acquaint every grade school child with the works of the famous bard and in such a way that it will appear like play to them. At the same time, it prepares them for high school English studies while those who are not fortunate enough to advance beyond the grades will have a working knowledge of the classics.

The plan consists of story hours for the children when groups will meet and tell Shakespeare stories in simplified form. Clubs for each grade will be formed. Then the grade school champions will contest with those of other schools for the town honors.

Prizes will be offered at various stages of the competitions and a diploma will be awarded each child who has finished the prescribed course.

The grand finale will be a Shakespearean evening or pageant or Shakespearean program having the children portray the Shakespearean characters.

The National association now reaches into practically every state. Aside from the fact that members of the clubs improve their education and mastery of English, there is a social feature. Parents and teachers have endorsed the plan with enthusiasm.

AMERICAN LEGION MAKES CHOICE OF WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATOR FOR PRIZE

Merle Guild Post of the American Legion have chosen a Westinghouse electric refrigerator for the prize to be given away at their 11th annual carnival this year. The refrigerator is now on display at the Dreyer display room.

Long faces in coming second graders at the North Side school are likely this week, in the announcement that Miss Ida Brier, much loved by all the children, will not be here next year. She has been offered a position in the Park Ridge schools where the salary schedule is considerably above that in Arlington Heights. The Board here released Miss Brier from her contract here so that she might take advantage of the more lucrative position.

Miss Brier is considered as one of the best of the teachers here last year, doing many extra things for the children, and making herself valuable in the P. T. A. and the community. Not to be able to keep her here is the occasion of keen regret to many. Her work not only stood out in the school, but she entered splendidly into the work of one of the local churches, she being a member of the Evangelical (Association) church, which is not represented here.

Announcement of her successor will be made later.

Which Will It Be, Mr. Business Man? Sail or Steam

An old sea captain once said, "any windjammer can ride a storm with the hatches battened down and the sails clewed up, but it takes a steamship to ride a dead calm."

Too many business men today are trying to meet a dead calm with hurricane warning tactics. Huddling below decks, they've clewed up their advertising appropriations with stout rope of prejudice battened down the hatches on their better judgment. One of these days they will come on deck and wonder why they are so far from shore.

A steamship captain doesn't wait for trade winds to blow him into the Port of Profits. He musters those trade winds with a driving power of live steam . . . piles fuel under his advertising boilers . . . starts his craft towards Profits and usually reaches port before the old fashioned skippers have spread their sails for an occasional buying breeze.

Becalmed on a glassy sea today, business will eventually be favored by that buying breeze. But why wait for it. The powerful engines of Newspaper Advertising are ready and waiting to stir up the unrudder expanse of buyer-indifference. And fuel is cheap . . . much cheaper than marking time while some wiser navigator gets to port ahead of you.

Put more steam behind your efforts with well planned newspaper advertising.

Old People's Home Festival Was a Success

A crowd of between three and four thousand people attended the annual festival of the Ev. Lutheran Old People's home in Arlington Heights Sunday afternoon. The morning being rainy, the attendance then was small. St. Paul's Harmony band from Chicago, rendered excellent music in the preludes and during the noon hours, a feature being their chime of bells. The singing of the great crowd to the music of the band and the chimes was beautiful.

While the net returns have not been figured, the collections were around $1,000, and the refreshment stands were nearly sold out. The Rev. C. M. Noack, chaplain of the home, presided in the morning and the Rev. P. Roeder was the speaker. In the afternoon the Rev. A. D. Wangerin, secretary of the Old People's home association, presided, the speaker being the Rev. Herman W. Meyer of Wilmette. St. Luke's choir from Chicago sang in the afternoon.

State Asks Bids for Change in Highway Around Palatine

Palatine village lost half of the Northwest highway, when signs were posted by the state of Illinois directing northbound traffic around the village on the former Baldwin road. If the contract is let which is being advertised for opening August 5th, southbound traffic will also follow the new route.

Bids are asked for the widening of the new highway, constructed last year from Hicks road to the highway proper. The bids provide, however, that the Northwest highway construction start from Hicks road, extend one block west, north thru Prairie View subdivision thru the Dean property and Palatine Ridge to Baldwin road. The present north bend on Hicks road will be torn out.

Hicks road will be used exclusively for Route 89, extending from Half Day to Joliet, via Palatine.

Park Ridge Calls Miss Ida Brier for Teaching Position

HONOR REV. ELLERBRAKE'S ANNIVERSARY

Forty Years of Service
Reviewed by Classmates
at Celebration

A very fine celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the entering into the Christian ministry of the Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake was held as a surprise upon him by St. John's Evangelical church and his friends, Sunday evening at the church.

It was just 40 years before to a day, that Mr. Ellerbrake was ordained at the Evangelical church in Beecher, Illinois. He was born in Berger, Missouri, which remained his home until he went to Elmhurst college, and later to Eden seminary in St. Louis. His first pastorate lasting about seven years, was at Papineau, Illinois, near Watseka. He next served as pastor of a country church at Hoosier Grove near Elgin in Hanover township, where he stayed about 16 years. His third and present pastorate will be for eighteen years by next September.

Members of the Arlington Heights pastoral circle were invited to come to the anniversary service, and most of them attended; among these were two of his classmates, the Rev. C. A. Neumann of Downers Grove, and the Rev. Geo. Goebel of Des Plaines. It was mentioned that there are 18 members of this Eden seminary class of 1891 living out of the 23 graduates of that year.

The organ prelude was played by Miss Esther Ellerbrake, the first part of the program was in German. The opening sentence was given by the Rev. George Goebel of Des Plaines, brother-in-law of the guest of honor. Then was a hymn in German, "Lobe den Herren." The Rev. John Goebel, of Chicago, another brother of Mrs. Ellerbrake, led in prayer. The Rev. Paul Goebel of Gilman, son of the Rev. John Goebel, read the scripture lesson. The choir then sang, "Praise Ye the Father," by Gounod. The address in German was given by Prof. C. Bauer of Elmhurst college, an intimate friend of Mr. Ellerbrake.

In the English part of the service was first a hymn, "God of Might, We Praise Thy Name." The English address was by the Rev. G. A. Kienle, superintendent of the Deaconess hospital, Chicago. Both speakers had reviewed the activities of Mr. Ellerbrake in the churches of which he has been pastor, in the light of selected Scripture texts. Miss Esther Ellerbrake, then sang, "The Lord is My Shepherd," a favorite sacred solo by Samuel Liddle.

Greetings were said by the Rev. W. Bateman of Bartlett on behalf of the pastoral conference; by the Rev. C. A. Neumann of Downers Grove in the name of the class of 1891; and by the Rev. William Meyer of Hoosier Grove on behalf of the congregation there, a number of whom attended this service.

Mr. Ellerbrake then rose and said a few words of appreciation of the friendly honors heaped upon him. The closing was by the Lord's Prayer, benediction pronounced by the Rev. John C. Voeks of Palatine, and singing of the Doxology.

After the service, the Ladies Aid served refreshments in the basement of the church, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

"All Chicago" Team to Invade Arlington Hts.

The "All-Chicago" baseball team is to invade Arlington Heights next Sunday afternoon to battle with the Arlington Boosters; the game to start on the east side field at 2:45 o'clock.

H. Voight, formerly with the St. Louis Browns, is to pitch for All-Chicago; Mudara will catch. Dieball and Verba will be the battery for Arlington Heights.

The game with the Cuneas last Sunday was called off in the morning on account of its raining then. In the afternoon it cleared off all right.

Mrs. Milly Hansohm Here from Germany After Thirty Years

Mr. Waldemar Krause and his family have had the pleasant surprise to have a visit of his sister, Mrs. Milly Hansohm, from Kiel, Germany. Mrs. Hansohm has been here before, about 30 years ago. She arrived in New York on the steamer "Albert Ballin."

Mr. and Mrs. Krause drove to New York with their car to see his sister land on American soil. It was certainly a very glad affair, as they had not seen each other for so long.

Mrs. Hansohm is enjoying her visit here very much and sees how this country has improved since she left. She is going to stay here a few months and will then return to the Fatherland.

AN INVITATION Arlington Heights Garden club invites anyone wishing to do so to enter flowers in the Flower show to be held in the Village hall, August 7 and 8. Out of town people may make entries also.

Anyone interested is requested to get in touch with one of the committee on entries for further particulars. The committee consists of Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Charles Poulsen, Mrs. Frank L. McBride, Mrs. Ed. Boyle and Mrs. Wm. J. Hausman.

AM. LEGION CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK

Street Dancing, Rides, Drum and Bugle Corps
To Be Prominent

The eleventh annual Legion carnival will be held in Arlington Heights by Merle Guild Post No. 208 on July 22 to 24 inclusive. Special features of this year's carnival will be the music of several American Legion Drum and Bugle corps from posts in the northwest towns. There will be local music and dancing every evening. New games and rides to satisfy the most exacting will be added features.

The carnival will commence on July 22 with street dancing to the tunes of that well known orchestra from Arlington Heights, "The Royal Orchestra." This will be a regular evening affair during the duration of the carnival.

The drum and bugle corps from several American Legion posts will parade and play catchy tunes. The committee in charge has negotiated for three rides, the merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel, and the looping Lena, which is a new ride. These rides will afford plenty of amusement to both young and old. Games of skill and other new and interesting games will be other features of this carnival.

Proceeds from the carnival will go toward maintaining the Legion home and charitable activities of the legion.

New Eight Hour Law Holds Up Road Work

Springfield, July 13.—Enactment of the eight-hour prevailing wage scale law has made it necessary for state highway officials to cancel the road bid opening set for July 15, and to readvertise for bids on the $2,500,000 worth of work. Revised specifications will stipulate that the days' work shall not exceed eight hours, and will list the minimum rate that the successful bidders will be compelled to pay. The scale for the various classes of work, as determined to be the prevailing rate in the communities concerned, will be subject to approval by a commission made up of representatives of the groups interested.

Township Farming Figures Announced

Wheeling township had 176 farms at the time of the 1930 census (April 1), according to a new bulletin "Agriculture-Illinois" just issued by the Census bureau; Palatine township, 142; Barrington 116; Hanover 167; Schaumburg 149; Elk Grove 224; Maine 291; Leyden 219; Niles 134; New Trier 33; Northfield 157; Norwood Park, 38.

Barrington township led the county in the acreage of lands in farms, or 18,589 acres; Orland was second with 18,382; Hanover third with 17,004; Schaumburg fourth with 16,935.

Orland was first in acreage harvested, 14,038; Schaumburg second with 12,802 acres of crops taken in.

Barrington had the most pasture land, 4,814 acres; Hanover second with 3,037; Schaumburg third with 2,748.

Barrington had 1,846 acres of woodland in farms, Hanover 1,262; Lemont 1,079; all other townships add much less.

Maine township led in the value of farm land and buildings together, $11,470,506; Leyden second, $10,306,550; Northfield, third, $8,989,818; Elk Grove, $8,171,795; Wheeling, $4,699,875; Barrington, $3,467,095; Hanover, $2,946,974; Niles, $5,470,050; Norwood Park, $1,554,068; Palatine, $3,373,415; Schaumburg, $3,601,300.

Maine township led also in the value of farm buildings, $2,860,280; and in farmers' dwellings, $1,153,200.

Elk Grove township led the county in the value of farm machinery, $295,259.

In the entire county, there were 3,348 farms, of 214,742 acres; with 149,863 acres of crops harvested, 3,432 crop failure; 11,183 farm lands idle; 20,669 plowable land in pastures; 7,223 acres of woodland pastures; 5,496 other pasture; 1,308 acres of woodland not used for pasture. The value of total farm land and buildings was $100,828,311; buildings $20,187,199; farm dwellings, $10,346,830; implements and machinery, $3,409,744.

GARDEN CLUB PLANS AUGUST FLOWER SHOW

J. T. Erickson Tells Hints
on Rock Gardens and Pools

At a regular meeting of the Arlington Heights Garden club held at the home of Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick, Wednesday evening, July 8, the time and place of the coming Flower show were announced, viz. August 7 and 8, at the village hall. Anyone interested is invited to make entries.

This business meeting was in an unusually attractive outdoor setting, the president, Mrs. Fred Schmitt and the others present being seated outdoors by the pool and rock garden with the flower decorations, hollyhocks, goat's beard, monarda and many others growing in their natural settings.

The address was delivered by one of our Arlington Heights gardeners, Mr. J. T. Erickson, of Hawthornhurst. Many interesting points were brought out, viz.: A rock garden and pool are within the reach of every one now.

Fish in pools prevent mosquitoes, break monotony of the view of water, take care of insects that retard the development of lilies.

Water lilies are of two kinds, hardy and tropical. To have constant bloom, plant both night-blooming and day-blooming lilies.

Don't retard tropical lilies by addition of cold water. They need a temperature of 72 degrees, some need 98 to start with. Plant lilies only 2 inches below surface of water at first, later 8 inches.

A pool with a north exposure retards blooms while the southern exposure hastens them.

There are formal rock gardens and natural gardens. The natural one is a rocky, stream, brooklet, pond.

Tape-grass planted in pots and sunk to bottom of pool keeps water from being stagnant.

Iris and rushes give a natural look to a pool.

Water hyacinths have a tendency to overgrow everything else, as does the water primrose.

The deeper we plant water lilies the fewer the flowers.

A three foot pool is too deep, 18 inches is better. There should be a layer of sand on the bottom and clams and snails are good scavengers.

Every pool should have an overflow in case of rain.

Dried shrimps and chopped worms are better than commercial food for goldfish.

Goldfish should not be kept in sunlight. Having all the light they go blind, then die. They must have a place to get out of the light. Many people lose their goldfish through keeping them in sun rooms.

Speaking of others besides water plants, Mr. Erickson, who has learned by actual experience as results

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Carl Sandburg writes popular notes. That from others he sagely quotes: "So that is that." Old Observer each week sets down Notes, notes and facts of folk in town; Keep this under your hat! Read them over line by line. Some are dull, some really shine. If this you truly do I'm sure you will honestly find something cheery and kind just about you!

At any rate if we don't say some nice, kindly thing about you, we will say nothing at all. There are so many good things about, even ordinary folks, why say unkind things?

One kind trait, one good deed, by the end of the day makes up a noble column. Some cheerful person told us today that after July 17, things are to take a turn for good—and some pessimist says that turn will just be swinging around the circle, and back on the same old line.

Isn't it fine to read in the Chicago papers the distinction given to our own Mrs. Olive Allison at the Des Plaines Camp Ground last Sunday? The oldest attendant, in the seventy-two years, of the camp meeting, and her cottage, the Clough Cottage, one of the first built.

Some of us in Arlington Heights well know Mrs. Allison as a true loyal friend. Yes, and a good Methodist, and better yet, a good faithful Christian. Years ago—many of them—we attended the camp meeting with the Dietrichs and Allison, and the popular boy preacher, Harrison, hollered and yelled about the number of Presbyterians he had converted.

Our good Methodist friends were sore vexed at him, but to us it was simply amusing. "The Boy" soon wore out his popularity and left many poor Presbyterians unconvinced. Every church has to suffer from the harm done by such freaks. More's the pity.

We were pleased to read what Mrs. Allison had to say of the Sunday afternoon amusements. It does seem as if we are becoming more and more frivolous as time goes on. Some are even regretting the space given to amusements where such fine golf and race courses might have place.

Speaking of amusements—right and good for us in their place, reminds me of such a note of hearty praise I heard from a lady from the city, all her life used to the best plays in the first class theaters. She said we went to the Arlington Theater the other night to see Charles Chaplin and it was simply great. The pictures of the very best, the theater not large, but just perfect. Why do people go out of town to see movies when they can see them at home?

Maybe it is because they like the ride, why not take the ride and come home to see the play. How can we expect the best when we do not patronize home effort? We can only hope for bigger and better things by lending our support.

Yea verily "The old order changeth." We see our town widen and broaden materially. It is for us to help it to grow mentally, morally and spiritually. No use to sigh for the good old days when our youngsters were "All dressed up and no place to go." Amusements entertainments and "getting something not altogether for nothing, but worse, out of the other fellow."

There little town site, Don't you cry, You'll be a city by and by; There, little rich man's proud estate, You'll be a golf course if you wait; There little meadow, don't you sigh You'll be a swell suburb by and by; Poor little farmsteads, soon you'll win, And be a popular roadhouse inn!

Some changes are gratifying, and happily for the better. The P. T. A. for the children during vacation are doing a splendid thing. The 4th of July evidenced a more intelligent observance of law and consequently there were fewer fires and accidents in our town. For this we are glad.

It does seem strange so few possess the simple gift of friendliness. That gift that puts you at your ease. And without effort seems to please; A gift more rare than gift of song That makes you feel that you belong.

A stranger who is all alone Rejoices in a friendly tone; Your greeting cold, conventional, Like icy waves over him fall. The studied phrases you repeat A lonely soul can never cheat. The limp meaningless handshake Never relieves the lonely ache.

Don't make believe or act a part, If you have not a friendly heart; The friendly soul with impulse kind Gathers you in like rushing wind And makes you somehow know 'tis true. That she was waiting just for you. What then though the cold world offend, You know you have a loyal friend; A friend who really does possess The simple gift of friendliness.

Odd that I should write those lines here now, but just had to get them out of my system. To feel that you do not belong; to feel alone in the crowd, is to make one realize the greatest gift—a true friend.

A pretty evidence of courtesy and thoughtfulness, was told us today. A lady caught on the street in a sudden shower was accosted by two young lads out with a delivery car, one of them sprang out opened the door, and kindly said to the lady, "Get in, I'll ride on the running board." She gladly accepted their courtesy and they took her home.

These lads, maybe Boy Scouts, or the sons of a wise mother whose true code of kindness is older than the splendid scout code. They at any rate are on the way to be gentle, manly men. The lady so much appreciated this pretty deed she will never forget. Too often we imagine all boys are bad. They are not—only too often good in them is neglected and overlooked.

Do you remember how a year ago or maybe longer, there were men connected with the Chicago Water Supply company urging all Chicago suburbs to connect up with their system, sent their agents here to get us to join in and help consume their dead fish and chemicalized water. And now they have run out of even the horrible water they wanted us to share.

We have the best water on earth, and our careful officials will soon solve the problem of bringing from the inexhaustible springs that flow below us, pure water to supply all our needs, already we note an improvement in the strong flow. Use the Golden Rule, when you turn your faucet, remember there are more than five thousand of us need a bath and a drink; aye, and a change of linen.

O, yes, these are troublous times. Yet we have so much to be thankful for. Even if someone made a run on one of our banks, I'm not scared. Why those bankers are our staunch old friends, and I've faith to believe they would snatch up our little savings and make those bandits run. At any rate, we are as I said, thankful our banks are safe, and in safe hands.

Birds in the trees and bushes, The crickets in the grass; Start on wild, frantic rushes. When they hear the motors pass. Cars crowd out on the highway Cars block up all the park; None know who it is in them, Or where they go in the dark.

Once we thought an ideal home Was in a woodland spot, There robbers and bandits now come, And murder like as not.

Once little poultry places Were fine to advertise; Turn now from these, your faces, If you wish to be wise.

Far off in the Bahamas, Or some Caribbean Isle, Who knows but old Atlantis Will leave up after while.

"I know a bank where wild Thyme grows," So Shakespeare made someone say. Who of us is so wise he knows The banks "wild time" today?

Ah, well, we have the races, So just make up your mind, We know many worse places, Where such good folks you won't find.

Strangers come to Arlington Heights from far and near, and are delighted with the place. Just watch the number of new residents we will have later on from among the casual visitors this summer or people who come to visit the races and see the wonderful park and grounds.

Here is our bright friend, Mrs. E. A. Elfled, after spending ten weeks with her daughter, Dr. Persis Elfled, in her beautiful summer home in Delaware, where on a cliff looking out over the waters they had lovely views and cooling breezes. Coming home, she went with her son for a brief stay at her own old home, St. Louis, now her verdict is, Arlington Heights near the lake, in Chicago land is the best of all summer resorts.

Listen, you young journalists who crowd the Arlington Herald office, please tell me where the catch is in the following advice to writers: "Never put a preposition at the end of a sentence, no matter what paper you are writing in." Do you see it? And right there you have in a nut shell, just about what schools of journalism amount to.

After breaking all their rules and regulations, let's go into Framberg's get an ice cream cone and treat the crowd; by the way, we should say "iced" cream. What a sad mixup our so-called "Kings English" is; in the end we will have to take up with our "All American" language to the latest President's taste.

Beautiful August nights, not so pleasant outside because of those man eating mosquitoes. Pity the vegetarians couldn't put them on a diet. Wonder how they get those white plumes on the end of those bright searchlights? Not so many people attending the races, not so many people going to Europe, and we hope not so many people spending more than their income. Cheer up! the best is yet to be—Aurevoir!

There are so many parasites Who live at the expense, Of others, like the orchid And the lichen on the fence.

Just like this family of plants My father used to say: Are many not less mortals Who spend, and never pay.

He showed us once a pretty vine, Its golden tendrils sent; 'Round other plants to cling and twine, Gaining its nourishment.

"Love vine" was its ironic name, Since scalled love we see Live on its object just the same, As love vines on a tree.

There will its clutching tendrils Close and still closer cling; Sapping the life and purpose From some poor human thing.

The lovely fragile orchid, A princess joys to wear; Absorbing life from other plants, It plays in beauty rare.

Alas! the human parasite, In every class we know; Who live and thrive in all their might, On others' strength to grow.

The orchid and the love vine, Pay well from beauty's mint, But the human parasites incline, To bleed you, without stint.

One parasite goes everywhere, We all delight to know; He lives unseen upon the air, Our glorious radio.

But see what cheer he brings; Let human parasites beware; Or he'll whine them off on wings. Elinora Griser Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Jean and Gladys, went to Florida for Mr. Davidson's vacation the first two weeks of the month, visiting Mr. Davidson's parents. Friends have heard from them from Eagle Lake, near Winter Haven.

About sixty of the old Effinghamers in this vicinity met at Friday, last Saturday night for a dandy good time, and did they have it? Two fiddles and a guitar and a banjo furnished "motion" inspiring music, and the graceful members of old Effingham neighborhood danced "the light fantastic" until the cock crew. Those who didn't know all the new intriguing steps just sat and laughed until they forgot financial depression and short crops, until it was almost church time.

Miss Meta Pfingsten is at home enjoying a vacation from her work in Chicago.

Arlington Heights Flower Show will be held in the village hall, August 7th and 8th.

Mr. W. S. Lennartson was one of the leaders at the Young People's Lake Geneva institute, at Conference Point on Lake Geneva, near Williams Bay, July 6 to 12. Misses Dorothy Helm and Grace Knox were among the some 350 students there. The time was packed full of recreation, education, discussion of live topics in which alert young people are interested, devotional exercises and inspiration.

Found: Two dozen whiskey bottles (empties) in the parks during the races. Losers can claim same by seeing the park superintendent.

Miss Martha Jackson writes from Plymouth, Mass., where the pilgrims landed on Plymouth rock, and which is full of interesting relics of early history, "7-11-31. Here today. Beautiful, and of course, historic. Am so happy about the school; it is worth the trip and cost." Miss Jackson is taking an extra course in the nursing at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Her address, until June 28, will be General Delivery, Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Parker or Mr. Dieball will take calls for community nursing service in Miss Jackson's absence, for a substitute has been provided.

Elizabeth Sadecky has returned from a two weeks stay at the Girl Scout camp at Hickory Hill, near Edgerton, Wis. Florence Patrick and Dorothy Hauptli plan to go July 27 to stay two weeks.

Millions Awaiting Salvage
The largest known bulk of "drowned gold" is that of the Vigo Bay photo fleet belonging to Spain. In 1703 the fleet took refuge in Vigo bay, northwest of Spain, guarded by French warships, but was sunk by British raiders. The gold and silver ingots are reputed to have represented $100,000,000.

Imagination
The essence of the imaginative faculty is utterly mysterious and inexplicable, and to be recognized in its results only.—Ruskin.

South Side Breezes

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ebeling and their daughter, Mary Kathryn, from Lombard, Illinois, spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the Albert Cavanaugh home at 38 S. Mitchell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Compton entertained Allen Hamilton over the week-end, Mr. O. G. Barrett and Harriett Barrett for Sunday dinner and the afternoon and evening. Quite a celebration, don't you think—when it wasn't even a holiday or anybody's birthday.

Mr. C. C. Compton spent Monday and Tuesday in Urbana on business.

Mr. Walter Boireau is leaving Friday for a week's trip in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Dobbins visited friends in Long Grove Sunday.

Miss Ruby Bunn, 14 year old daughter of the E. H. Bunn at 305 S. Walnut avenue returned home Tuesday evening from West Lake hospital in Meirose Park, where she was operated on for appendicitis. She seems to be recuperating splendidly.

The Carl Newbergs on South Walnut avenue returned home from their cottage at Alligan, Michigan, where they have been playing for the past few weeks.

Donald Dobbins drove down to Kankakee with the B. G. Baxter family and the Utterbachs on S. Belmont last Sunday. Kenneth Baxter, a son, is living and working at Kankakee and the party all enjoyed a picnic dinner with Kenneth. Mrs. Baxter, La Vita Baxter, a daughter and three other younger sons are spending this week in Kankakee in a cottage near Kenneth's.

Roy Dolstrom, brother of Ruth Dolstrom and Mrs. Irene Sujack, has a 30-day leave from his navy post in Panama and has been visiting here. Ruth and Roy drove to Michigan, where they spent a few days, and then went on to Niagara Falls and Canada in their new Ford. They're having a glorious time from all reports.

Miss Bernice Gawthrop was a weekend guest of Miss Ida Marshall, formerly of Arlington Heights and now a nurse at the Suburban hospital in Oak Park.

Mrs. Wm. McKaig spent Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. Richard Brockmeyer, in Chicago.

Mrs. Thomas A. Pope's seven year old niece from Chicago is out here visiting this week.

The first editor of South Side Breezes, Mrs. Gladys Hetherington Hartman, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. L. E. Reid, of Danville this week. Russell Reid, son of Mrs. L. E. Reid, is staying with his grandmother in Elgin at present, but will be Mrs. Hartman's guest next week.

Miss Bernice Gawthrop was entertained by Miss Ann Steiger, former resident of Arlington Heights, at her home in Park Ridge, Wednesday overnight.

Mrs. Victor Pecchia entertained eighteen guests from Chicago and Beverly Hills at a delightful luncheon on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards visited Mrs. Richard's sister in Waukegan, Sunday afternoon and entertained Mr. Richard's brother, Mr. D. Richards Sunday evening.

Miss Bernadine Reichel, cousin of Mrs. Victor Pecchia, from Michigan City, Indiana, is expected at Mrs. Pecchia's home next week for the entire week (If one can judge the enjoyment of visits at the Pecchia home by the number of guests entertained there, we do not hesitate to say that Miss Bernadine Reichel will enjoy herself immensely next week).

Bobbie Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards, who is visiting his uncle in Washington, D. C. this month and next, writes often and tells what a marvelous time he's having.

Little Jane Wassner acquired the whooping cough on her vacation with her parents at Mr. Wassner's brother's home in Minnesota. Best of wishes for swift recovery to Janet.

George Hearn, nine year old son of the Hearn of South Mitchell, is recovering nicely from his "extended whooping cough. Poor George has had for over a month already and isn't quite over it yet.

Uncle Eben
"Milk mightn't be so dear," said Uncle Eben, "if dar was as much enthusiasm 'bout pasture foh a herd of cows as dar is foh pervidin' accommodations foh a flock of golf balls."—Washington Star.

A STORY OF PRIVATE INITIATIVE AND LOCAL CAPITAL

Chapter VIII

BETTER LAMPS... BETTER LIGHT

HIDDEN AWAY on the inside pages of Chicago newspapers in the fall of 1879 were brief announcements of a new invention by Thomas Edison. By closing an electric switch he had caused a loop of carbonized thread to glow for 40 hours in a vacuum. He had created the incandescent lamp! Friends predicted that his invention would make it practical to light homes electrically. Critics ridiculed the idea—forecast failure.

The critics were wrong. Early the next year a lighting system using 115 of the new incandescent lamps was successfully installed on a large steamship. Soon wealthy homes began to supplement gas mantles with electric lights.

Improvements were made. The cotton-thread filament became a bamboo carbon filament. Then the carbon filament became a tungsten wire. The vacuum bulb became a gas-filled bulb. And the glass was "frosted" inside. Each change brought longer life, better light. The perfected lamps gave four times as much light as the original carbon lamp. "Mazda" became their trade-mark.

Rival lamps, of course, appeared on the market. Most of them were of the carbon type with low efficiency. Many of them came from foreign countries where cheap labor cut manufacturing costs. And while a few pennies were saved at the time lamps were purchased, less light was received for current consumed.

When the Public Service Company was organized in 1911, it recognized the superiority of Mazda lamps—recommended that customers use them exclusively. Many homes, however, continued to buy the cheaper foreign-made lamps even though they were often fragile and burned out quickly.

Something had to be done. A solution was found in 1925. The Company made it easier to obtain high-quality lamps than low-grade lamps. It introduced a policy of "loaning" 60- and 100-watt Mazda lamps to customers without charge—of replacing them with new lamps when they burned out. It began to exchange other sizes of lamps at concessional prices—less than must be paid for inferior lamps. Lamp exchange counters were set up in all Public Service Stores. Lamp agencies were established in dozens of communities.

To assure uniform quality, a sampling of all lamps the Company purchases from manufacturers is submitted to the Electrical Testing Laboratories in New York City. This independent organization puts the lamps through careful performance tests. If they fall below prescribed standards, they are rejected.

When customers make lamp selections, the Company's representative asks about the fixtures for which they are intended—suggests the proper lamp to burn. And new lamp styles are demonstrated so customers may always light their homes in the most up-to-date way.

Thus the Public Service Company considers its obligation to residents of northern Illinois as extending beyond the running of reliable service to the customer's premises. It co-operates with him, showing him how to make the best use of the service he receives. It was this idea that inspired the Company's liberal lamp policy. It is constantly behind the Company's efforts to put superior lamps and appliances into every customer's home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday,

July 12.

The Golden Text was, "Jesus

saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work" (John 4:34).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If ye be reproached for the name of Christ happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you:

on their part he is evil spoken of,

but on your part he is glorified"

(1 Peter 4:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"To suppose that persecution for righteousness' sake belongs to the past, and that Christianity to-day is at peace with the world because it is honored by sects and societies, is to mistake the very nature of religion. Error repeats itself. The trials encountered by prophet, disciple, and apostle, 'of whom the world was not worthy,' await, in some form, every pioneer of truth"

(p. 28).

ARLINGTON HTS

Off for vacation?

Some who have been away are coming home.

Mrs. Harold Fitzpatrick, who has been ill for some time, returned to her employment in the city, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Krause of Des

Plaines, had their little son, born in June, christened Arnold Fred-erich, by Rev. Father Wagener, in St. James church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Guild have rented their home apartment for the racing season and will spend the summer at their Lake Geneva cottage.

Mrs. H. Whitehouse, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. B.

Dibley, returned to her home in Pittsburg last week.

Born, a son, to Mr. and Mrs.

Henry Zollner, Thursday, July 9.

Florence J. Schwarz of North

Shore avenue, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fritz the past week.

Mr. Charles Wiggins spent last week with his niece, Mrs. Warner and family in Chicago.

Mr. Francis K. Wilton is spending the first week of his vacation at home. That with Mrs. Wilton

he may show his cousin, now their guest, Mrs. Clara Wurcer, the beauties of Chicago and Mrs. Wurcer from Buffalo, New York.

Mr. Louis Hagen with his wife and children have recently moved here from St. Louis, and are now living in a house on South Walnut avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Wisersky of South

Walnut avenue, had as week-end guests over the Fourth her sister,

Miss Branch, of Chicago, and Mr.

Joseph Guest late from England.

They visited the wide spaces and beauty spots of Arlington, and were enthusiastic in praise of our town. Mr. Guest expressed great admiration for Arlington Park and particularly the hurdle races.

Mrs. B. B. Dibley entertained a group of children in her home Friday, July 10, to celebrate her little granddaughter, Betty Jane Dibley

of Evanston, who was eight years old that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schaefer have turned their faces homeward after their six week's trip. Were at Galena when latest card was received by friends here. The extreme heat and financial depression on their route through Iowa revealed much distress among farmers. The drouth, lack of feed, and cattle dying, gave anything but a cheerful outlook to our young travelers.

Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Peeters and sons are spending a fortnights vacation at Mrs. Peeter's father's summer place at McCullums Lake.

Miss Minnie Breese, who is a student nurse in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, is at home to spend at least a part of her three week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Breese on South Walnut

avenue.

About two weeks ago Tony Lukhaub was at Wauconda and when in the lake swimming with a boy companion, they both dived and the friend of Tony, was unable to rise. Tony grasped him and in getting him out of the water, the lad struck him, landing a severe blow behind Tony's ear. This has proved painfully serious, an abscess resulting.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphry Ashton have leased their home in Stonegate for the season and have gone to spend the summer with Mrs.

Ashton's father at Columbus, Ohio.

A family gathering was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Antone

Schaefer, to celebrate the christening of their grandson, Arnold Frederick, son of their daughter, Mrs.

Krause of Des Plaines.

Mrs. G. W. Zander and daughter,

Joan, have just returned from spending several days with friends at Savannah, Illinois.

Mrs. Ernest T. Bruhnke had as home guests her brother, Mr.

Brown, his wife, baby from Chicago last week.

Mr. H. C. Cleveland is doing jury service this week. If not a little less wearing it will at least be a change from the grind of railroad office work.

Mrs. Marie Nehring and Miss Cy-ria Schrage, Mr. Tom Schultz, and

Herman Hilman of Chicago spent Sunday with the Edward Fritzes.

Mr. Wm. Garms of South Walnut avenue, is reported to be seriously ill.

SUBDIVISIONS IN ARREARS ON SPECIALS

Nearly $150,000 Unpaid
In Palatine, for Last Year Alone

Treasurer, A. G. Smith, Palatine, has completed making up the delinquent tax books on special assessments and has turned them over to the county treasurer. The surprising total of $146,306.34 of special assessments due last January remain unpaid.

Of this amount only $11,374.14 is due from assessments against property in the older part of town, while $134,932.20 remains unpaid from special assessments levied against property in the subdivisions.

This appalling total of delinquent taxes shows why Palatine is defaulting on thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of bonds and interest coupons.

The amount given above is for one year only. Some of the subdivision property is in default on special assessments for two and three years. These figures give the public some idea of what Palatine and other municipalities are up against in the operation of their cities, without the necessary finances.

Saddle Club Opens At Former Fair Grounds

Dr. Gilkey's Saddle Club has opened at the Dean race track, the former fair grounds with a string of horses that will provide a mount for any person from two year old child to a jumper that may be desired by the most ambitious saddle enthusiast. Dr. Gilkey says that he has everything from a child's pony or donkey to high class thoroughbreds. Saddle riding is becoming more popular as a sport and Dr. Gilkey will be glad to give free instruction to any interested. With the Dean race track and the adjoining dirt roads thru the undeveloped subdivision east of town, there is plenty of space away from cars for riders to enjoy their exercise.

Deer Grove Campers Again Ordered to Move

With the purchase of that part of the P. L. Z. & W. right of way through Deer Grove, by the Forest Preserve district, those having summer cottages there were served notice to vacate. An effort is being made by some of the owners to find permanent locations; one contemplating going to Plum Grove. The Forest Preserve will probably not enforce its order until the end of the season.

Huebsch Bills for Bail Reforms Are Signed by Governor

Three bills intended to help curb crime are among those signed by Governor Louis L. Emmerson. One by Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, of Chicago, makes it unlawful to carry a weapon in a car with the intent to commit crime, also possession of a defaced gun constitutes prima facie evidence that the possessor changed the markings. The other two by Senator Arthur A. Huebsch, of Brookfield, have to do with the matter of bail for criminals. Licenses will have to be secured from the department of registration and education by persons, firms or corporations who engage in the business of giving bail in criminal or quasi-criminal cases.

County Superintendent E. J. Tobin Sworn in for Sixth Time in 20 Years

County Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Tobin was sworn in on Wednesday last week for his sixth term of office. His previous term of office did not close until the close of the school year; and the swearing in now rather than before was to avoid confusion of the periods of his administration. County Clerk Sweitzer administered the oath of office.

Northwestern Hospital To Open at DesPlaines Says Dr. Campbell

The Northwestern hospital, occupying an entire building near River and Rand roads, Des Plaines, will be open for the admission of patients, within two weeks, stated Dr. Campbell Tuesday. It will be the most complete hospital in this section of the county and will have facilities for thirty beds. A new two-story building and basement, erected two years ago by H. Roy Berry Co., is being remodeled for the purpose and no expense is being spared to make it complete in every way. An entrance lobby will extend the entire length thru the center of the building. Private examination rooms for use of visiting doctors are to be provided. A library, X-ray and emergency operating rooms are upon this same floor. The private rooms and wards, nursery, etc., will be upon the second floor. The entire building is fireproof, being constructed entirely of steel, brick and cement. An ambulance entrance will be in the rear. Other additions are being planned for the coming year.

Dr. Campbell's purpose is to make this a general hospital, open to all physicians, upon an equal basis. He will retain his residence in Palatine for the present.

Semi-Annual Tax Payments O. K'd By Gov. Emmerson

Governor Louis L. Emmerson signed a bill last week by Senator Florence Bohrer of Bloomington which provides for the semi-annual payment of taxes. The bill becomes effective Jan. 1 next; and thenceforth real estate taxes may be paid in August and December of each year.

The measure is designed as some relief to the taxpayers. Objections raised were that it would deprive political units of the ability to meet some bond interest when due; also that it would make extra work and require more clerical help.

Plea for Unity
Let us then stand by the Constitution as it is, and by our country as it is, one in destiny, united and entire.—Daniel Webster.

Rev. C. A. Fuessle, Preacher 60 Years, Dies

The Rev. Carl August Fuessle, 85 years old, for more than sixty years the holder of active pastorates in the Evangelical church, died July 3 in his home at 3507 Bosworth avenue. He retired several years ago.

Born in Germany, the Rev. Mr. Fuessle came to America in 1866. He served as minister in churches at Downers Grove, Knox Grove, Freeport, Leavenworth, Kan.; Geneseo, Naperville and Palatine. He served also as district superintendent of the church for three terms, one in the Peoria region and the other two here.

Surviving the clergyman are his children, the Rev. Eugene Fuessle of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Reuben Fuessle of Chicago, and Mrs. Flora P. Goodwin, also of Chicago. Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Monday at the chapel at 1458 Belmont avenue. Burial was in Naperville.

The funeral was attended by the Nordmeier family of Palatine. Rev. Fuessle had many friends here. Many may not have known him sufficiently well to call him by name, but the stalwart white haired gentleman who came out here every week to conduct services in Salem church met recognition as a real gentleman of the older school wherever he went.

New Law Gives Defendant Break In Contempt Cases

Change of venue in contempt of court cases where a judge may think his character or conduct has been attacked is now provided by a bill signed last week by Governor Emmerson, and sponsored by former Assistant States Attorney H. B. Gaines.

The law is designed to prevent a judge from acting as judge, prosecutor and jury in cases where he himself is the plaintiff, and has already made up his mind that the defendant is guilty.

The new law reads in part: "When any defendant in a proceeding for contempt arising from an attack occurring otherwise than in open court, upon the character or conduct of a judge, which proceeding is pending before the judge whose character or conduct was impugned, fears that he will not be able to act fairly and impartially before such judge, he may petition the court for change of venue from such judge, such a petition to be verified by affidavit of the defendant, and thereupon such change shall be granted."

Attorney Gaines explained: "I proposed the new law because of the things which occurred while I was an assistant state's attorney, mostly in the Municipal courts. Frequently persons were summarily brought into court for criticizing the findings of a judge and without much of a chance of a hearing were fined or sentenced to jail.

"In many cases the individual cited for contempt may have only been telling the truth of the situation. Under the old system they did not have much of a chance to defend themselves."

Leghorns Compete In Egg Laying

Springfield, July 13.—In spite of the extreme heat endured in June, the hens on test for egg production records at the poultry experimental plants the state department of agriculture conducts, some splendid records were made during the month. A report turned in to Stuart E. Pierson, agricultural department director, reveals that the cup winning pen in the White Leghorn competition produced 146 out of a possible 150 eggs. The average production of all the birds on test at the three plants ranged well up. At Kankakee, the birds averaged 20 eggs apiece; at Morrisboro, 18.9 and at Quincy, 17.3 eggs per bird during the month.

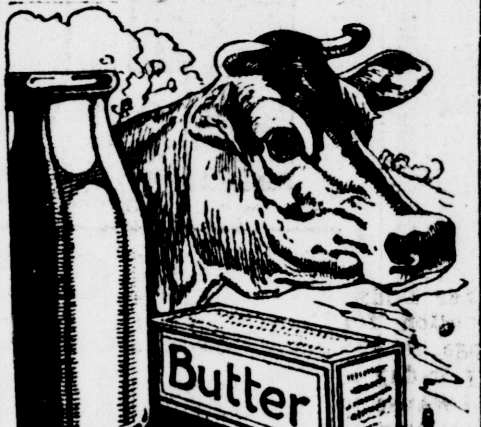

Constitution First

The Constitution was written before the preamble, and voted upon, section by section. It was then submitted to the committee on style, which made the final draft, placing the preamble in its proper place. It was then voted upon in its entirety.

It was a College Night at Palatine O. E. S. on Past Officer's Night

With four young ladies as the candidates, three of whom were members of the P. T. H. graduating class of 1930 and who are now attending college, past officers' night observed by Palatine chapter No. 585 O. E. S. last Friday evening, was a pleasurable event that had an added significance. Mrs. E. H. Ottendorf and Mrs. Louis Miller, mothers of three of the girls were given places of honor, while Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Paddock, parents of the other candidate were in the east. The chairs, all filled by past officers, included a few from Arlington Heights. The officers appeared to enjoy a "return to the old days" and it was like a big family party, without the formality that often attends "big chapter nights."

The chairs were filled as follows: Margaret Paddock, W. M.; S. R. Paddock, W. P.; Lily Jahn, A. M.; H. H. Pahlman, Treas.; G. H. Herrmann, Sec.; Elizabeth Pahlman, Cond.; Celia Hausam, A. C.

LEARN TO SWIM AT SCOUT CAMP

"Every Scout a Swimmer." At Camp On-Da-Ko-Ta, Scouts are realizing what it means, for every Scout attending camp this season that did not know how to swim has learned under the able direction of waterfront Director Leo Zeff. The record is 100 per cent for the first and second periods.

Not only have non-swimmers been taught to swim but a large number of swimmers have qualified as members of the American Red Cross Junior Life Saving Corps under Mr. Zeff's direction.

High Spots of 1931 Shown in C. O. Nimitz Boy Scouts Report

Progress in the Northwest Suburban council of Boy Scouts is shown by the mid-year report of Scout Executive C. O. Nimitz sent out this week.

A gain of 10 new troops and a membership gain of 147 has taken place in the seven northwest townships during the past year. The council on March 31 was rated as a "B" council, or 15th in the schedule of 90 councils in Region 7, which includes four states. In proportion of Scouts to population and in net gain in troops and scout membership, the local council is far in the lead of both the Nation and the Region as shown by definite figures.

A comparison of badges awarded this year with a corresponding period last year, is thus made:

6 mos. 1930-6 mos. 1931
Second class	74
First class	42
Merit Badges	230
Star	24
Life	6
Eagle	4
Eagle Palm	8

A 100 per cent increase of men attending training classes is noted for one year's comparison, or a 58 per cent increase for those finishing the course.

Various items of community service by the Boy Scouts are enumerated.

Included in the Council are Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Schiller Park, Morton Grove, Niles, Niles Center, and Tessville.

BOY SCOUTS GIVE PROGRAMS OVER AIR

Radio listeners who happened to be tuned in on the National Broadcasting Co. program through station WEAF and associate stations Wednesday afternoon from 3:45 to 4:00 p. m. Daylight Savings time, heard the first of a series of new National Broadcasting under the title of "Boy Scout Reporter."

The program opened with a new Sea Scout March as a theme song followed by Scout news consisting of items of human interest, heroic conduct and other worth while news features of Scout interest. The third part of the program was an interview in which facts of interest to Scouts and parents were discussed. The program closed with the singing of Taps. Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, participated in the program.

These programs will be on the air each Wednesday afternoon over the WEAF chain at 3:45 to 4:00 p. m.

Birds' Sense of Smell

The sense of smell in birds is not very acute, although their olfactory organs are well developed physically. It is doubtful whether the sense of smell is of much use to birds.

GRIND your GRAIN with ELECTRIC POWER

YOU can save both time and money by letting a 5 h. p. portable electric motor grind your grain at home. Besides preparing it for cattle and chickens, an electric grinder will elevate grain to overhead bins for storage before and after it is ground. It will also "sack" it. A few handy levers operate the motor and the blower chutes, and the grinder can be left to run itself while you are doing other chores.

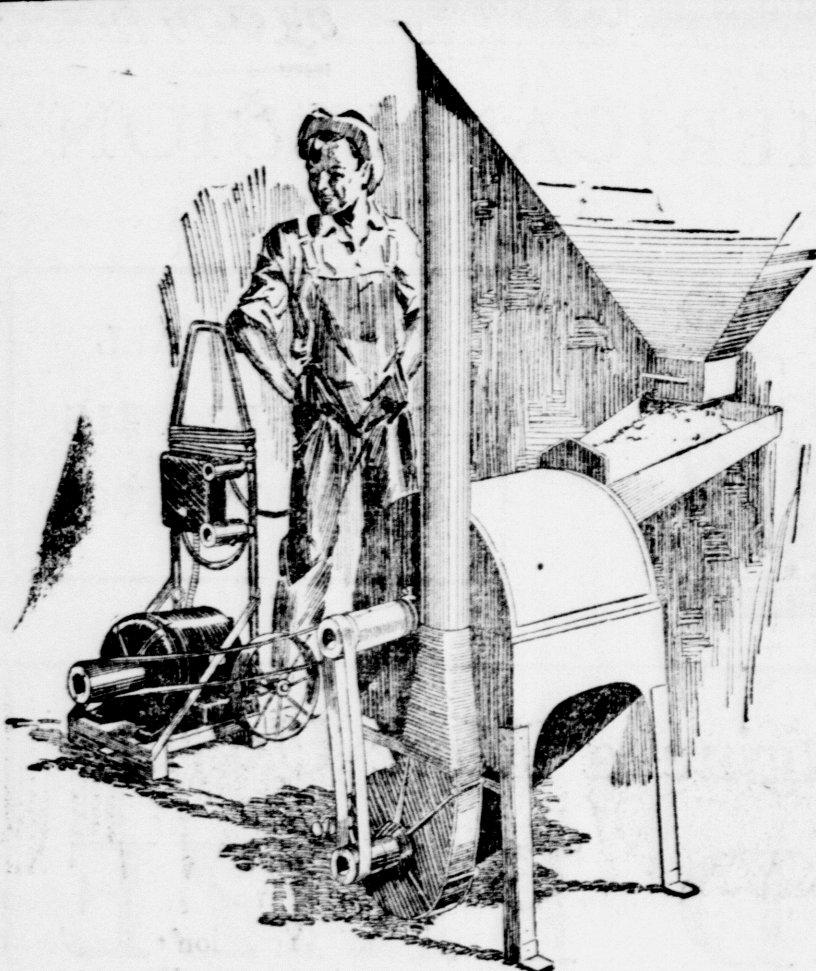

The portable electric motor also has many other uses on the farm. It can be wheeled to any location to hoist hay and silage, cut roots, irrigate fields, shell corn, churn butter.

For complete information, you are invited to write or phone your nearest Public Service Store. One of our men assigned to farm electrification will be glad to call on you—without obligation. Your Local Implement Dealer can also demonstrate portable electric motors.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

M. H. Schreiber, Local Superintendent
Phone 12 Barrington, Ill.

Electric feed grinders and dozens of other labor-saving appliances may be seen in operation daily at the Public Service Company's Model Farm, two miles west of Mundelein, Lake County.

Headliners Engaged for Catholic Series; "Red"
Harris in Wind-Up

In getting together the list of boxers for the next regular series of boxing events to be staged on Thursday night, July 23, at the Palatine Fair Grounds (Dean's race track on the Northwest highway), Palatine, Mr. L. T. Reuse, manager, and the committee in charge, have outdone themselves in securing first rank headliners, in mixing the ranks with rivaling towns, and in securing the booking of three star fistic standard bearers of the visiting jockeys and trainers at Arlington Park race track.

moving on when the racing season closes, as these boys have enviable records in various parts of the United States as well as Havana and Cuba.

The records and reputation of Promoters Glen Kreft of Gray's Lake and "Shifty" Bellows of Elgin, are generally well known throughout these parts and in the county, in the field of boxing sports, and guarantee more than your money's worth. The contestants listed below from Waukegan, North Chicago, Round Lake, Libertyville, Gray's Lake and the Naval Training Station, will appear under the management of Mr. Kreft, and those from Elgin and Wheaton, under the management of Mr. Bellows.

In addition, another treat is in store for the fans in the appearance of "Red" Harris of Arlington Heights on Thursday's card. Due to unduly short notice and other unavoidable circumstances, it was impossible for this ever popular idol to take part as scheduled in the last bouts held July 9. However, every assurance has been given the management personally by "Red" as this goes to press, that he will positively appear in a windup bout on next Thursday, July 23, in response to the popular demand of local fight fans.

While individual schedule of opponents has not been yet arranged and completed at this report, the following boxers have been definitely booked for next Thursday's bouts. Final card will appear on posters displayed at all principal points early next week. Watch for them.

"Red" Harris, heavyweight, Arlington Heights.
Don Merriman, 150 lbs., Waukegan.
Jim Hagner, 150 lbs., Elgin.
Bob Foley, 127 lbs., Round Lake.
Johnny Farrell, 126 lbs., Wheaton.
Geo. Green, 105 lbs., Jockey Arl. Pk. track.
John Ketty, 105 lbs., Jockey, Arl. Pk. track.
John Toomey, 145 lbs., Trainer, Arl. Pk. track.
John Taylor, 145 lbs., Waukegan.
Butch Butler, 147 lbs., Elgin.
Jack Riley, heavyweight, Naval Training Sta.
Earl Tenney, 190 lbs., Elgin.
Red Schneider, 140 lbs., No. Chicago.
John Edwards, 105 lbs., Grays Lake.
Geo. Madole, 130 lbs., Libertyville.
Fred Williams, 135 lbs., Elgin.
Oscar O'Hanion, 118 lbs., Waukegan.
Johnny Bellows, 116 lbs., Elgin.

Bouts Growing More Popular

Growing popularity and interest in the sport of boxing is evidenced by the increasing attendance and enthusiasm indicated not only by the men, but the ladies and younger folk also, at these regular bouts being staged every two weeks thus far at Palatine on Thursday nights.

In attendance, may be seen the local village officials, business men and citizens of Palatine and representative groups from Chicago and the various neighboring communities in the county.

It has been the practice of Manager L. T. Reuse and the committee in arranging the bouts this year as last, to present local headliners in this field of sports from Chicago and the nearby towns. This has resulted in most hotly contested bouts in practically every instance because of the friendly rivalry existing among the boxers as well as the audience.

Details of results of the last bouts held Thursday, July 9, will be found in another column.

Mr. Reuse and the committee in charge, are members of the men's organization of St. Theresa Catholic church of Palatine. The entire proceeds from the bouts are for the benefit of the church building fund of this new parish.

All bouts are conducted under A. A. U. rules. From the standpoint not only of quality performance, but good sportsmanship of the contestants and the orderliness and conduct of the audience as well, nothing but highest praise and encouragement has been expressed by prominent individuals, among them Mayor E. Ottendorf of Palatine, village officials and leading business men. Similar compliment was expressed by County Commissioner Homer J. Byrd of Arlington Heights, who acted as special announcer at the first opening bouts this season. Also by attending officials of the State Boxing Commission, prominent visiting guests and promoters from elsewhere who are qualified to judge.

All in all, there is a general feeling at the end of the evening's boxing entertainment of "When's the next card scheduled" and "You missed a great night if you weren't there."

Popular prices of 75 cents for men, 50 cents for ladies and 25 cents for young folks from 10 to 16 years of age prevail. Bouts will commence promptly at 8:30 p. m. and early attendance is urged for choice of seats as no seats are reserved.

Remember the date, Thursday, July 23, Dean's race track, Northwest Highway, Palatine, Ill., at 8:30 p. m.

SWIMMING POOL ATTRACTS MANY

Arlington Heights and Palatine people seem to have discovered the new municipal swimming pool at Barrington, near the Northwest highway, and were among the 1,517 people that took out swim tickets the first week. A wading pool for the children is contemplated.

Public Health Laws Changed in Illinois

Springfield, July 13.—Dr. Andy Hall, director of the state department of public health, has issued a statement setting forth important changes in state laws affecting the department he directs. The announcement sets forth the following revisions:

The department, hereafter, functions in a supervisory, rather than in an advisory capacity, in relation to the public water supplies.

Public swimming pools are now subject to sanitary supervision, as an added duty of the department of public health.

A public health measure creates standard qualifications for public health nurses and clothes schools, county boards, and municipalities with power to appropriate funds from local sources to employ public health nurses.

Amendment of the act relating to the duties of coroners will reduce the number of deaths recorded as from "unknown" causes. This, Director Hall explained, will be effected through the provision that the county coroners, and not local registrars, non-medical officials, must fill out the certificates of death that occur without medical attention. This, he says, will increase the value of vital statistics.

Explaining Fashions

"Fashions must change," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "We soon become tired of ourselves and wish to be disguised as somebody else."—Washington Star.

Mallard Had Made Speed

According to a report made to the bureau of biological survey of the Department of Agriculture, a Mallard duck banded on November 23, 1930, at Big Sausage, Green Bay, Wis., was killed five days later near Georgetown, S. C., which is a record for individual speed of migration.

For Fleasless Dog, Cat, Use Borax

Dr. Frank J. Sullivan of the Merwin Memorial Free Clinic for Animals, Boston, Mass., recommends a dry borax shampoo to rid dogs and cats of fleas which are so prevalent during the hot weather season. "Powdered Borax sprinkled over a dog's coat or a cat's either is safer and better than washing them as a usual thing. The fur must be brushed very vigorously, both lengthwise and crosswise of the coat. The result will be a clean dog and sweet smelling one, also a fleasless dog. It is the same with the cat. Washing a cat or dog does not get rid of the fleas as borax and a good brushing does."

"This treatment weekly or twice weekly keeps the animals healthier and the fur in better condition. Always use borax. Never use talcum. It mats in the fur and will not do the work."

Spend 13th of Income On Liquor in Britain

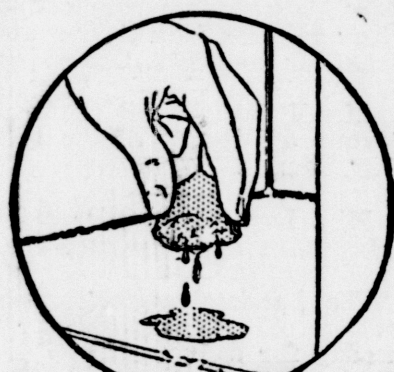

One-thirteenth of the national income of the English people goes for liquor, according to a statement made public Monday by the Women's Christian Temperance union. The brewery business has been growing in along with the falling off of other lines of business. British brokers are advising the buying of brewery stocks, it is said.

RHUBARB LEMONADE

Wash a bunch of rhubarb, cut it into large pieces, cover them with 6 cups of cold water and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Add 2 cups of sugar, 1/2 of a can of shredded pineapple, a lemon or lime thinly sliced. 1 cupful of juice from canned cherries and 3/4 of a cupful of orange juice. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, and strain. Chill then add 2 cupfuls of ginger ale and 1/2 of a cupful canned cherries well drained.—Christian Science Monitor.

Swedish Music Feature Of Big Outing Sunday

Next Sunday, July 19, is the annual outing of the Swedish Societies' Old People's Home association, in Evanston at Pioneer road and Grant street.

An extraordinary program has been arranged this year for the early afternoon, with singing of national airs by the United Swedish Singers and speaking by noted public leaders, among them the president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, Mr. R. S. Soderstrom.

This will be followed, later in the evening, by a musical program, by some forty members of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, led by Mr. James C. Petrillo himself.

DRIVE THE NEW OLDSMOBILE • IT'S A GREAT ALL-ROUND PERFORMER

Four-Door Sedan

Make yourself comfortable in Oldsmobile's deep, well-cushioned driver's seat . . . Regulate its position, backward or forward, to the exact place that suits your height . . . then step on the starter and note how the NEW CO-ORDINATED STARTER AND THROTTLE add to driving convenience by automatically opening throttle to proper starting position . . . Note, too, that Oldsmobile's engine starts instantly, even at zero temperature, due to its NEW DOWN-DRAFT CARBURETION—also the source of increased power, higher speed, faster acceleration, and greater smoothness . . . Then drive away—operating the clutch in the usual manner, and shifting without fear of clashing . . . THE NEW SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION permits you to shift smoothly and silently through all gears—from low into second, from second to high, and from high back to second, as desired . . . And while you are shifting gears, notice how swiftly and smoothly the car accelerates in its NEW QUIET SECOND GEAR, a feature which combines flashing getaway with quietness which rivals that of high gear performance . . . After you have enjoyed Oldsmobile's ease of control in traffic, drive to a straightaway on the road . . . Open the throttle wide, and thrill to speed such as few cars at any price can equal . . . and note how quietly Oldsmobile's engine delivers its power—due in part, to a NEW CARBURETOR-SILENCER . . . Note, too, how stubbornly and surely this car holds to the road. Uncanny roadability is assured by balanced design—an important factor in which is the exceptional rigidity of the chassis—obtained by A DEEPER, STURDIER FRAME . . . Finally, before you conclude your tests of the car, drive it on rough, bumpy roads . . . where several advantages of its finer coachwork will be quickly apparent . . . Its NEW, INSULATED FISHER BODIES, which are warmer in winter and cooler in summer, are also remarkably quiet . . . and fundamental advancements in Fisher construction add materially to strength and serviceability . . . Tests such as these will prove to you that the new Oldsmobile is a wonderful car to drive—first because of its FINER ALL-ROUND PERFORMANCE—and also because of its GREATER EASE OF CONTROL.

WHEELING

The Chas Becker family motored to Minnesota on a combined pleasure and business trip last week.

The Chas. Balling family attended the wedding of Mr. Balling's nephew in Chicago last Saturday morning.

The Ernest Kruse family spent last Wednesday afternoon and evening at Pell Lake.

Mrs. Hattie Lamparter, and two children of Phoenix, Arizona, are visiting at the Reeb home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gemmill have moved to Childerley where Mrs. Gemmill can be nearer to her work as business manager of the Crane fund.

The annual picnic of Wheeling Camp R. N. A. families was held in the Forest Preserve last Wednesday. The weather was favorable but the festivities of the day were somewhat shortened by a raid of blood-thirsty mosquitoes.

Mrs. Edw. Kessell, Miss A. Kessell, and Miss A. Schneider of Chicago, visited friends and relatives here on Tuesday.

Stonehenge a Mystery

Stonehenge is circular group of huge standing stones on the Salisbury plain in Wiltshire, England. It is not mentioned by any of the early Roman or Saxon chroniclers. Many legends have grown up regarding the origin and significance of Stonehenge. John Aubrey (1686-1697) was the first to claim that it was a temple of the Druids. This is popularly believed, but there is no evidence to support it.

EAST MAINE

Regular English services at St. Matthews Lutheran church Sunday, July 19, at 10 a. m. The regular quarterly business meeting will follow the services.

Mrs. Henry Goettsche and daughter, Irma, are vacationing in Michigan this week, having motored there with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rohde and daughter, Elaine.

Many folk of this community attended the funeral services held at Niles Center, July 14, for Rev. Fred Detzer, who passed away at his home in St. Paul's parsonage, July 10, after a lengthy illness. Rev. Detzer had been pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church almost fifty years and had officiated at the founding of St. Matthews congregation in East Maine in 1896. The remains of Rev. Detzer lay in state in the church two days where the vast number of friends he had made in his long and fruitful life, came to pay final respects. Funeral services were in charge of Dr. Pfofen-hauer and Rev. Lang with Pastors Werfelmann and Meier assisting. Interment in St. Paul's cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jaacks accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grewe of Chicago, left early Tuesday morning for an extended motor trip through various parts of Wisconsin. They plan to stop off at Wausau, Medford and other points of interest visiting relatives and friends enroute and return by the end of the week.

The annual picnic of St. Matthews Lutheran congregation held Sunday, July 12, was very successful in spite of the rain Sunday morning which threatened to spoil the affair. The ideal picnic weather of the afternoon brought throngs of people from all around making the attendance larger than ever before. The Mt. Prospect Citizen's band were among the first to arrive and through the afternoon and early evening delighted all with their open air concert. There were all sorts of amusements and games, the children enjoying racing and contests while the grownups tried their skill at bowling, throwing balls, etc. The bingo tables proved to be one of the most popular attractions of the day and were always filled, lucky winners receiving their choice of the many prizes on array. The parcel post booth also received its due share of attention but the biggest rush came when supper was announced. The Ladies Aid had carefully prepared for a large crowd and when the hungry throng had been served they were practically sold out. Mrs. Anna Schaefer was the lucky winner of the lawn swing, on which changes had been sold, while Mrs. Kate Betton won the set of dishes. The affair was a decided success from every angle and the committees in charge sincerely appreciate the services of the Mt. Prospect band, the highway police officers who assisted in regulating traffic, and all who so kindly sent donations or otherwise assisted in helping make the affair such an outstanding success.

Myrtle Wasmund Becomes Bride of Gerhard Dreyer

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, Richmond and McLean avenues, Chicago, Saturday, July 11, when Miss Myrtle Wasmund became the bride of Mr. Gerhard Dreyer, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Dreyer of Oakton Heights. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock.

Miss Myrtle was given in marriage by her father and presented a beautiful picture, gown in gorgeous white satin and lace with long tulle veil fashioned most becomingly. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Ethel, as maid of honor, gown in yellow net and carrying yellow tea roses. The bridesmaids Miss Alice Dreyer, Miss Ella Koelner in peach chiffon and Miss Vera Wasmund in green. The groom in green chiffon preceded the maid of honor. Each girl carried roses, the two in peach carrying roses to match their gowns, the two in green carrying deep red. Little Dolores Rieper, cousin of the bride was flower girl and looked very dainty in yellow.

Henry Dreyer served his brother as best man while Frank Koller, Elmer Wolter, Walter LaBuy and Elmer Wasmund were the ushers.

After the ceremony the Christ Evangelical Lutheran choir, of which the bride was a member, sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd." A reception followed at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt Rieper, 4017 Roscoe street, Chicago, with whom she had been living. Seventy five invited guests partook of the wedding feast and helped make merry until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Dreyer received many lovely wedding gifts with the well wishes of their many friends. They will make their home in Chicago.

Secret Method Of Recoating Stucco Walls

Art in stuccoing is possible as in anything else, if you have it done by competent men in their line. Unless the job is done well the stucco will crack and that, of course, will necessitate another job in a very short time. The stucco composition must be properly mixed before a good job can be done. All of these details must be accomplished by men who are experienced and know the secret of the art in stuccoing.

Stucco recoating can be applied over old or new stucco by a secret process known as Archaic water-proof recoating. This makes an exterior of enduring beauty and color. Careful manipulation of the materials gives the building a bold ruggedness, yet there is no lack of delicate detail.

For homes needing repairs. There are many stucco homes which require minor repairs and others which have reached the stage of rapid deterioration, which thru the Archaic process of recoating could easily and quickly be transformed into the most substantial and attractive homes in their community.

The Archaic Stucco Recoating Process Company, 1918 N. California avenue has recoated many of the fine buildings and homes in Chicago and its suburbs. The company is a stuccoing expert, and thru its knowledge of this line of work many buildings have been able to save hundreds of dollars in this one item alone as the work is guaranteed to stay.

Business Has Grown. The recoating process branch of this firm has grown in a short space of time to such an extent that the company is laying plans which will enable it to successfully take care of increased calls without jeopardizing its present service system.

Patch work and repairing of all kinds are also part of their service and the small job receives the same high order of workmanship and courtesy as of the large ones.

Home owners are invited to refer any of their stucco problems to the Archaic Stucco Recoating Company, whose representative will call if desired and submit plans, estimates and other information without cost.

Word Long in Use

The word "electricity" was first used by W. Gilbert in his treatise "De Magnete," 1600. The adjective "electric" in this sense was used as early as 1703 by Coleridge in his "Songs of the Pious." In which he says, "The electric flash that from the melting eye darts the fond question of the soft reply." In 1831 Carlyle in "Sartor Resartus" said, "Wait a little until the entire nation is in an electric state."

Driven to It

One good reason why many children abandon themselves wholly to silly sports, and trifle away all their time insipidly, is because they have found their curiosity balked.—Locke.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY—

Owing to business conditions, the owner of a six room English colonial brick veneer house constructed only three years ago and occupied by owner, is offered at a price less than the original cost. A contract of sale at about one-fifth down, on balance, with small monthly payments, will swing the deal. House is strictly modern in every respect, with hot water heat, tile bathroom, lavatory on first floor, etc.

Property, located on South Dunton avenue, is landscaped and is in the center of the newer southside section of Arlington Heights. If interested, phone Arlington Heights 21 and address of property will be given. Look it over and if you are interested, the owner will go into detail regarding plan of payment, etc.

THEATRE SHOWS

Four Marx Brothers in "Monkey Business" Coming to McVickers

Faces that haven't cracked a snite in years will be convulsed with laughter, stock-market troubles will become mere myths, staid and reserved people will be rolling in the aisles and the management have taken measures to have doctors in the lobby to attend victims of laughing fits.

That nutty quartet of funsters who made ten million people happier by their antics in "Cocoanuts" and "Animal Crackers" will soon return to the McVickers screen in "Monkey Business," their third successive mirth-provoker, and the laughs checked will no doubt set a record for all time.

First All-Talking Picture of the Arctic Now at Roosevelt

A drama, as intensely thrilling as it is unusual, is "The Viking," mighty saga of the Arctic, now on the Roosevelt screen. It is a decided improvement over any other picture of its kind ever produced. It is authentic in the smallest detail and is the first all-talkie to be filmed in the land of the midnight sun. Upon completing "The Viking," Varick Frissell, the producer, and 25 others of the heroic expedition were killed in a tragic accident when the ship blew up as they were returning to the frozen north for "retakes."

Innumerable hardships were suffered by the cast and many times their lives were in danger as they fought against ice floes, terrific gales, and unbearable cold. Their efforts have contrived to give you an experience you'll never forget by seeing "The Viking."

Maurice Chevalier at United Artists

Maurice Chevalier, who has won the hearts of millions of Americans with his winning smile and his sparkling personality, has fascinated all Chicago by his performance in "The Smiling Lieutenant," now current at the United Artists Theater.

The story tells of the delicious romance of a young lieutenant of the guards, whose smile gets him involved with two women, one, a cabaret performer whom he loves and wants to marry; the other an old-fashioned princess who loves him and whom he is forced to marry. How this marriage turns his life topsy-turvy, and how the unwanted wife turns the table on her rival, is the amusing topic of the romance.

Brilliant Young Star In "Son of India"

India—exotic—alluring with its mystery and glorious romance comes to life on the screen of the Chicago Theater Friday, July 17. Ramon Novarro in a different and utterly fascinating role in "Son of India."

The story tells of the love affair between a young, handsome prince, born and raised with all the old traditions of India, educated in America, and a beautiful, young American girl who is visiting in India.

Ramon Novarro has with him an unusually excellent supporting cast.

Prepare yourself for a lot of laughs for Lulu McConnell is coming in person to the Chicago Theater. Everybody knows Lulu—everybody has laughed with her—at her—because of her—she's a scream and if you need a laugh tonic—Lulu McConnell is it. Lulu is far funnier on the stage than she's ever been in pictures. She brings her own company of funsters.

James Hall Returns To the Oriental Stage

This will be the second time that Mr. Hall, recently from Hollywood, will be presented in an outstanding stage revue built specially for his engagement. Mr. Hall's return to the Oriental was based on popular demand entirely.

Another star will be introduced from the stage at the same time, Joe "Wanna Buy a Duck" Penner. Joe has just returned from a European tour and will resume his stage activity with James Hall.

As the second part of the double feature at the Oriental Theater Friday, Barbara Stanwyck will be featured in her newest vehicle, "The Night Nurse." Miss Stanwyck will always be remembered for her memorable performances in "Illicit" and "Ten Cents a Dance." Taking the male lead in this picture is Clarke Gable, who gained fame in his roles in "Dance Fools, Dance," "Laughing Sinners," and "A Free Soul." His role in this picture was specially created so that he could display his talent at wickedness.

Effect of Bee Stings

The public health service says that if a person were stung by bees until the swelling added one-third to his normal size there would be no increase in weight except in the amount of formal acid injected by the bee stings. This would be so little that it should be disregarded.
